What's New in the Library?

Now that the longest term is over and there is more daylight we can all feel more relaxed.

Coming up are some of the year's fun, book-related activities - World Book Day, awards like Carnegie, the Excelsior and the Jhalak to shadow... but there are also more serious dates in the calendar. February is LGBT History Month, February 1st is Time To Talk Day,

February 6th is Safer Internet Day. There are many more days like this coming up, and the library is the perfect place to come to understand them - we can give you books on the topics like LGBT people from history or improving your mental health, or you can simply use the library as a quiet, contemplative space.

"THE CLASSROOM WAS A JAIL
OF OTHER PEOPLE'S INTERESTS.

THE LIBRARY
WAS OPEN, UNENDING, FREE."

Excelsior Award Shadowing

The Excelsior is a prize for comics and graphic novels. Here at SNS we will be shadowing the award - ordering all of the books and encouraging students to read as many as possible. There are 8 books nominated - could you read them all?

Come to the library to reserve them!

Bookbuzz

At the end of last term, Y7 got to unwrap the FREE books they received from the Bookbuzz scheme, run by the charity Booktrust. Azad in 7S, who chose the book 'Phoenix', says "My favourite character was Frollix, and the whole book was very good. There was lots of mystery!"

All the nominated books are available in the library, so if your friend's Bookbuzz book appeals to you then come and check it out.

Enjoy your books year 7!

Student Artwork

Thank you to Maja Bialek in 8E for the beautiful mural in the library window, based on her own original art piece (used as the cover for this issue).

Come to the library to see for yourself!

Student Reading

Lily just wants to spend her summer with her friends, eating junk food and lazing about. Her mum needs her to do chores, though, and is only cooking home-grown organic veg. Whilst cleaning the oven, Lily falls in! She discovers the world of Ovenland, full of weird and gross creatures. They're angry that the grease they survive on is gone - and they blame Lily...

Bailey is usually a chilled out guy, playing music and tending to his ginger afro, avoiding drama... but when troubled Bailey joins his 6th Form and he learns about her past - about her father killing her mother and her difficult life in foster care - he becomes interested in her. When Indigo finds out about the homeless man following Bailey, ha has to make a choice that could have lasting consequences...

These books are the most popular books from the SNS library this month. Come check one out!

New Books - Student Choice

At SNS, we love for students to choose books! The books you recommend appeal to other students and allow you to explore something you're interested in. This is often books by favourite authors or in an enjoyable series, books in a student's home language or non-fiction on a topic as student wants to know more about. Look for the Student Choice sticker and know it was recommended by someone like you!
